Annual Red Cross fund drive begins

By Janice Harrington

Committed volunteers from around town will soon be knocking on doors with the start of the Red Cross annual fundraising drive this October.

Jim Hooper, local district coordinator for the Red Cross Society's Alberta-N.W.T. division, said volunteers are preparing for a three month door to door campaign geared at raising money for the Red Cross' many services.

"We have about 45 people altogether in the district that are really committed to helping out," he said. "I have one man that is 90-years-old who still wants to canvas!"

Hooper, who has been involved in canvassing for the Red Cross since World War II, said the Didsbury district's goal for this year's campaign is $6,500.

"Although we did manage to raise over $9,000 in 1991 and the last several years it has been around $8,000 to $9,000," he said. "You just never have a clue as to how much. We didn't expect what we got last year because of the way the economy was, and then we did better than the year before."

Funds raised by Hooper and the district volunteers go directly to the division's head office in Calgary. The money is used to continue to offer the Society's five mandated services; international aid, blood, emergency services, water safety services and first aid. Many services, such as baby sitting courses and swimming courses, have been offered in Didsbury.

"We have always found that people are very generous when we come to the door," said Hooper. "But it doesn't matter how much you give. If everyone just gave $1 and we had enough people, we would still make it."

New medical clinic opens

By Janice Harrington

In an effort to relieve the overcrowded and cramped space in his old offices, a Didsbury doctor has opened a new medical clinic in town.

Dr. Mukhtar Ahmad, who has lived and worked in Didsbury for the past 15 years, celebrated his first day in his new clinic in the College Green residential development last Tuesday with family and friends.

The clinic, named the College Green Medical Centre, is far more roomy than Ahmad's previous office space.

"We really didn't have enough space previously," Ahmad said. "Now this is expanded, more spacious and much more comfortable."

Ahmad said the clinic's extra space and facilities could eventually allow up to 4 physicians to work together, creating what Ahmad hopes will be a multi-service centre.

"I hope to have specialists come in on a regular basis," he said. "That would help so that Didsbury patients don't have to travel away from Didsbury for specialized medical care."

The new clinic also includes more testing facilities, including those for electrocardiograms and lung testing.

Besides allowing more room for extended service, the new clinic will also allow Ahmad to offer a new service he has been thinking about starting for a number of years.

"Something we are definitely planning for the future is a series of preventative health lectures," Ahmad said. "It is something I have wanted to do for a while and now this has given me the opportunity."

Ahmad will also have more time on his hands when a second physician joins the office in October. Surrey, B.C.'s Dr. Wong will join the office for a month and then will be replaced by Dr. Doug Stevens from South Africa. A third physician, Dr. Abraham Moutan from Vancouver is also expected to join the clinic this December.

Dragon dance

Grade 12 students Tina Huhtintemi, Corina Kuelker and Simone Benton worked hard last Friday dressing up the DHS gym for the Battle of the Grades dance. Friday pitted all the grades in DHS against each other in the Battle of the Grades which the school celebrates rather than allowing froshing. This year grade 11 came out as the battle winner.

I have always believed that moving is about the most traumatic experience that anybody can undertake. When there is a slow day in Hell and the temperature has fallen ever so slightly I think the Devil tells everybody to move.

Sometimes, when we are driving, we overtake a pickup truck laden with boxes, mattress flapping in the slipstream, a crib and a hi-chair poked in at odd angles and a frayed rope securing a faded couch. I try to tell myself that these people are probably perfectly happy, maybe they are moving on to a better life, maybe they are realizing a dream. In my heart though, I know that they are not happy, that their children are snivelling over lost friends, that the cat is yowling and being sick in her little pet carrier, that Mom is fighting back tears of exhaustion and that Dad is speaking through clenched teeth.

If I let myself really get into it I can see Grandparents waving tear stained handkerchiefs, lost hopes, farm foreclosure, maybe the death of a breadwinner. I think this stems from my childhood when Mom read us The Grapes of Wrath. It made a tremendous impression on me and I felt such sympathy for the poor homeless family that for months after I dreamed of them, threadbare and hungry and trying to coax another mile from their poor, old overburdened car.

We are in the process of moving and not even my overactive imagination can equate this with The Grapes of Wrath but it still involves a lot of stress, exhaustion and clenched teeth. The length of the move is about 12 feet so no pickup truck is involved and there will be no flapping mattress but every single thing in the old house has to be picked up, examined, carried somewhere and put down. Not everything is coming over here, and only I can make the decision as to what moves over, what goes to a garage sale, and what becomes junk. The decisions are very hard. Does one keep a pair of ugly candleholders forever just because they were a gift from a loved one? Will I ever again use two quart sealers? Can I give away books that technically belong to my kids? Do all those empty pickle jars deserve shelf space? How do I tell my sister that I just found the fondue set that I borrowed from her 15 years ago?

Because we have been here for more than 30 years, and because the old house had attics, and because Ralph's folks were here before we were, all sorts of things have collected. Who really owns the old enamel coffee pot, the tiny chess set in it's own wooden box, the old cream cans and separator? Should I keep the bulging box of greeting cards and letters that came from dear friends and relatives? Of course I must, some of the writers are long dead and many of the cards were handmade by our children before they even started school.

Aunt Mina worked for years on a family genealogy and when she died I inherited a trunk full of charts, wills, letters and photos. Half of the people in the photos are not identified. Do I keep these ancient tintypes of people I don't even know? And speaking of trunks, what shall I do with my Mom's trunk? I had such good intentions for that trunk and the blue satin I bought to line it has probably developed permanent wrinkles from lying folded these last 20 years.

This would probably be a good time to sort through the filing cabinets and throw out most of the stuff I have collected there. I know there is a four-inch file of interesting things the kids might need for school. The kids haven't been in school for years. How about snapshots and albums? Would anybody really care if I just dropped about half of them in the garbage? And if I live to be 150 years old, I will never use the sewing, knitting and handicraft patterns that we have accumulated.

Would this be a good time to weed out the cookbooks? We don't eat sweets much anymore so I shouldn't need six or eight volumes of Christmas goodies but there seems to be one or two favorite recipes in each book and if I throw them out I will have to copy the recipes and put them in my already bulging file box. Too time consuming. I will just keep all the cook books. Where will I put them?

Maybe I should be using a pick-up truck. Not to move the 12 feet from the old house to the new but to make a couple of quick trips to the dump. I hope I never move again.

WHAT DO YOU SAY TO A GRIEVING WIDOW?

Because it is so difficult to know how a grieving person really feels, we advise that you not say: "I know how you must feel." It is not necessary to force a conversation, nor to extoll the virtues of the deceased to the grieving family.

Silent expressions of emotion and compassion (like a firm gripping of the hand) and a simple, "I'm sorry," are frequently more eloquent than talkative attempts at eulogies.

Listening and just "being there" shows that you care. Your presence is an indication of your desire to be sympathetic and comforting.

Above all, don't try to jolt a grieving widow out of her grief. Time will do it for her gradually. She must first accept the loss, then begin to live with it and pass through several emotional stages before the natural healing effects of time take hold.

We welcome your questions and comments on this and other subjects—privately or publicly—through this column.

OPINIONS/EDITORIAL

Much ado about nothing

By Janice Harrington

All too often in Didsbury, rumor is taken to be reality and sometimes that occurs with unfortunate results.

Luckily, rumors about costs and plans for the downtown gazebo currently under construction hadn't gotten too far before the people really in the known jumped to action.

The letter to the editor headlined gazebo clarification in this week's Review outlines the real facts about what is planned for the park beside Eldon Foote Hall and how it all fits into a larger plan to make Didsbury a better place to live. The Downtown Revitalization Committee and the Chamber of Commerce are fighting to keep Didsbury alive for retailers. Part of the plan is to make the downtown area more attractive to shoppers as well as to the people who have to work in the area. Costs for the project (which tends to be the brunt of rumors in any project), as well as other plans for the park were detailed in this newspaper at least twice since the original concept for the park was introduced to council. More information about what is being planned for the downtown will continue to be detailed in articles in the Review as well.

No one knows how rumors get started (like the one about someone being stabbed last month at the Hay City Saloon in Olds - pure imagination), but hopefully it is not out of malicious intent. Didsbury is fast becoming the new home of choice for urban dwellers tired of the city life. We need to make Didsbury as attractive as possible and these type of projects are a necessary part of that. Let's hope future projects aren't trashed because of unnecessary and unchecked rumors.

Community fundraising efforts for the Weber family are rolling. Financial donations can be dropped off to Henry Kuelker or Cliff Eckstrand or, for those unable to get out, pick-ups can also be arranged. Donations may also be dropped off at the office of The Didsbury Review or the Didsbury Missionary Church.

Fire departments across the country are urging people to check their smoke detectors once a month and the pressure to do so will increase next week with the plans for Fire Prevention Week.

Considering the awful statistics about fire death and damages, and the fire fighters continued faith in the ability of smoke detectors to save lives, it would seem only logical to start a plan on checking once a month, as is suggested, to make sure the batteries are still good and that the machine itself is not dead.

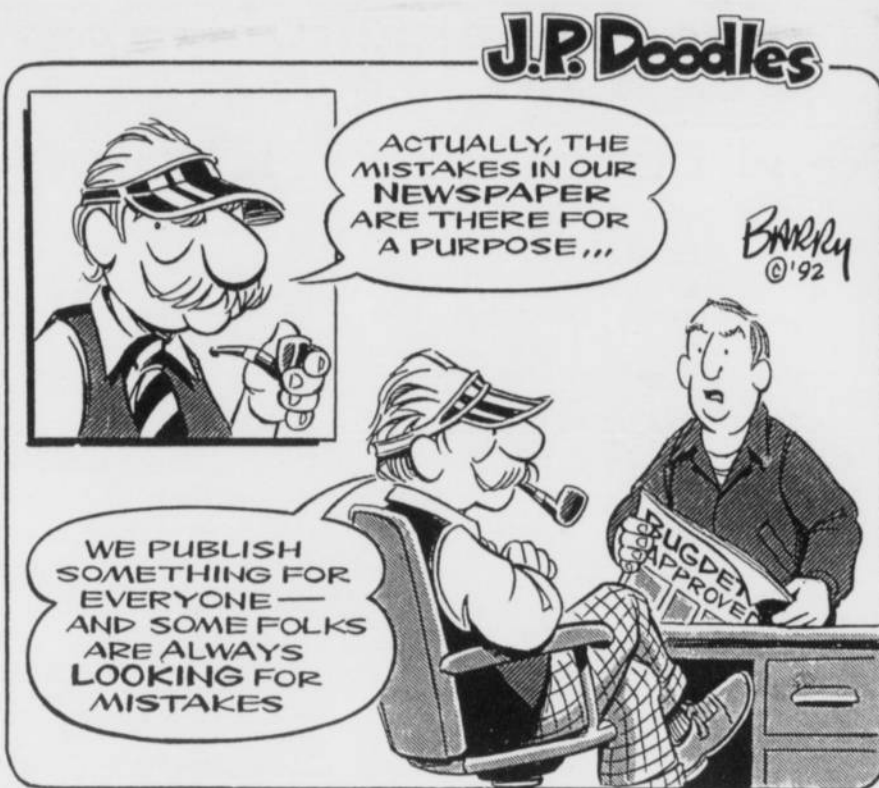

Checking the test button is a good exercise, but testing with real smoke is considered the best way to ensure your home is prepared should fire break out.

You can get more information about testing from the local fire department.

QUOTE OF THE WEEK:

"I really like to talk with my friends over the phone, but when they just dial my phone number, I can't hear them. I just want everybody to know that if they want to call me, they have to dial the TDD number first (1-800-855-1166) and then my phone number and then I can talk to them on the computer."

Helen Lane, a Didsburian suffering from a hearing impairment and the only resident to have the TDD service installed in her home.

Gazebo clarification

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to inform the residents of Didsbury about the Gazebo that is being constructed in the Downtown. There have been many people contact me, and because of the confusion surrounding the Gazebo, I feel that the costs and future uses of this structure should be better explained to the general public.

The structure is a miniature replica of the original Didsbury Gazebo that was re-built and presently sits at Heritage Park in Calgary. The Gazebo and the Didsbury band were the source of entertainment at a number of events in the past. By creating such a meeting place in the Downtown Core once again, with proper planning, a number of events can be held in Didsbury's downtown to enhance its prominence in the community, and provide residents (and tourists) with an alternative for entertainment, and hopefully provide everyone with a better sense of community.

The idea to presently construct the Gazebo and place it in Didsbury's downtown core was first forwarded by the Tourism Action Planning Committee which, along with one councillor, is made up of a number of local citizens. Another goal of the Tourism Action Planning Committee was to improve parking in the downtown. The parking lot, that the Town recently purchased and upgraded, was not being used efficiently, with about fifteen cars per day parked only on the East and West side of the parking lot.

The parking lot now has 26 designated parking stalls that can be used by patrons of the downtown. The area covered by the Gazebo would allow for only an additional four parking stalls. The committee felt that the need for additional parking was offset by the need for an area that could hold events and concerts to attract tourists, and also act as an aesthetically pleasing space where residents, shoppers, and employees of downtown businesses can meet and relax.

I would also like to clarify any misconceptions concerning the cost of the Gazebo. The Town of Didsbury, through its Tourism Action Planning Committee is eligible for Tourism funds from the Provincial Government of up to $147,000. This fund has been used to offset costs for projects such as signage, campground electrification, and a bed and breakfast. The portion of funds from the Town of Didsbury used in the Gazebo construction is $6,100 with total construction costs of $24,400. The balance of the cost, $18,300, is funded through a Provincial tourism grant.

It is also important to note that in addition to the Tourism Action Planning Committee, the Downtown Revitalization Committee, composed of downtown retail business owners, members of the Chamber of Commerce, members at large, and a councillor, are all supportive of the Gazebo project and have ensured that prior to any construction there was a broad spectrum of support for its placement and construction. To gauge this support, the project was presented to both the Chamber of Commerce and Council where it was also supported. The Downtown Revitalization Committee has, in addition to aiding in the establishment of the gazebo, put together a plan that deals with marketing and promotion and physical change for the downtown that will be forwarded to the Chamber of Commerce, individual business owners, the general public and Council in the near future for their input.

During the meantime, should construction on the Gazebo continue at its present rate, and if the weather holds out, we hope too, with the help of the school bands, present a series of musical concerts at the Gazebo site for all to enjoy. We hope to see you there.

Sincerely,
Joan Papke
Councillor, Town of Didsbury

Report from the Legislature

Hon. Roy Brassard, MLA
Olds-Didsbury Constituency
Premier Getty announces plans to leave office

On September 9, Premier Don Getty announced that he will not be a candidate in the next provincial general election. Mr. Getty was first elected to the Legislature in Edmonton 25 years ago and he has been the Premier of Alberta for the past seven years.

During his announcement, Premier Getty said that it had been both a tremendous honour and a privilege to have had the opportunity to be the leader of such a beautiful province.

Mr. Getty also said that his years in office had been very challenging. He was very proud of the fact that Alberta's economy had remained stable during trying times all over North America. He was also pleased that Alberta continues to have no provincial sales tax, the lowest income taxes in Canada and the second lowest unemployment rate in Canada.

Some of the policies that Premier Getty pushed for during his term included the diversification of Alberta's economy, efforts to strengthen rural Alberta, the farm credit stability program, the individual line telephone service to all farms, the improvement of the province's highway system, Metis self-government, the Triple-E Senate, the election of a Senator and Alberta Family Day.

Mr. Getty will remain the Premier of the province until a new leader of the Progressive Conservative party of Alberta is chosen. After that he will continue to sit in the Legislature as the MLA for the Stettler riding.

The new leader of the provincial PCs, who will also become the new Premier of Alberta, will be chosen during a leadership vote later this year. The election will take place all across the province at a location in each constituency, and all members of the party will be eligible to vote.

If you would like to talk to me about the referendum or the leadership vote, or any other concerns, you can call me at our constituency office at 556-3132 or my Edmonton office at 422-0141 (collect).

Open house planned for fire prevention week

By Janice Harrington

An open house is planned by the Didsbury Fire Department to celebrate this year's Fire Prevention Week.

Greg Hnatiuk, Assistant Fire Prevention Coordinator, said the department is planning to open up the fire hall on October 7 from 7 to 9 p.m. to show displays and videos about the firefighters and their jobs.

"We also have tours planned for all the grade 2 classes," Hnatiuk said. "We found that a lot of the teachers wanted tours and talks for the kids."

Fire Prevention Week is a royally proclaimed week running October 4 to 10. This year's theme is "test your detector - it's sound advice". Fire departments from around the country will be encouraging the proper use of smoke detectors during the week as well as instructing Canadians about fire escape routes and fire proofing your home.

Part of the reason for the proclamation of Fire Prevention Week stems from the statistics on fire death and fire damage in Canada. In Alberta, statistics show that accidental fires struck an average of 22 times a day during the 5 year period of 1986 to 1990, causing 283 deaths, 2,208 injuries and damages totalling over $5.85 million.

During the 5 year period in Didsbury, 35 fires were reported with one injury and over $900,000 in damages. Carstairs reported 16 fires, 2 deaths, 3 injuries and $225,000 in damages. Olds had 57 fires, 6 injuries and over $2 million in damages reported.

MP plans referendum seminars

Information meetings about the upcoming referendum on the constitution are being planned for the Wild Rose federal riding.

Wild Rose Member of Parliament Louise Feltham has set up a number of meetings around the riding in what she calls an effort to help constituents make an informed choice about the October 26 vote on the "Charlottetown Accord."

The referendum will ask voters whether they agree that the Canadian constitution should be renewed based on the agreement reached by the First Ministers on August 28, 1992.

Feltham, a Conservative MP, plans to visit 16 communities during the month of October to discuss the accord and help constituents better understand what they have been hearing in the media over the summer.

"October 26, 1992 will indeed be an important day in Canadian history," Feltham said in a press release issued last week. "I will be doing everything I can to ensure my constituents are able to make an informed decision."

"We as Canadians can be very proud," Feltham added. "We are one of the very few people in the world that will choose the future course of our country without taking up arms against each other. We have shown the peoples of other nations that there is another way to solve discord within the boundaries of one's country."

The first information seminar will be held at the Hugh Sutherland High School library in Carstairs on October 8 from 7 to 9 p.m. Other seminars to be held within the county are on October 17 at the Sundre Arena club room from 9 to 11 a.m. and the Olds Recreation Centre main hall from 1 to 3 p.m.

Other venues have been set up around the riding. For more information call Feltham's office at 1-800-372-9587.

MP's column

Louise Feltham
MP for Wildrose Constituency
Family budgets

There has been some confusion about the new Child Tax Benefit and how it will affect the family budget.

Under the current system we have:

- * Family Allowance: monthly taxable benefit of $35 for every child under 18. Benefits taxed back for upper-income earners.

- * Child Credit: annual tax credit of $71 for each child under 18, double for the third and each additional child. Only to families owing tax benefits.

- * Refundable Child Tax Credit: credit up to $601 a year for each child under 18. A supplement up to $213 per child under seven, if the family is not claiming child care.

Our proposal:

- * Annual benefit up to $1,020 per child paid in equal monthly amounts. Benefits are $75 higher for the third and each additional child.

- * Benefits will be $213 higher for children under seven, if child care is not claimed.

- * An additional earned-income supplement up to $500 for the working poor.

- * Benefits are not taxable.
- * Benefits fall as income rises.

The results:

- * A single mother of two earning $20,000 will receive $2,540 a year in benefits, $615 more.

- * A two-parent family with two children and an income of $50,000 will be entitled to $836 a year, $120 more than now.

- * A family with two children and an income of $100,000 now receives $227 in child benefits. With the changes they will not be eligible for any child benefits.

We are helping Canadian families in several ways. We are giving extra tax relief to students. We are allowing families to use their RRSP's to build or buy a home. We are cutting personal income taxes.

Response to abuse allegations

Dear Editor:

Re: Health Facilities Review Committee Investigation at Foothills Retreat Lodge

The Mount View Foundation is a non profit Foundation originally established by Provincial ministerial order to "provide low rental accommodation for elderly persons who are not suffering from any chronic disease or disability that incapacitates them to the extent of requiring specialized care..."

The Foundation includes the municipalities of the County of Mountain View No. 17, the Town of Didsbury, the Town of Olds, the Town of Carstairs, Town of Sundre and the Village of Cremona. It administers three Lodges, one each in the Towns of Carstairs, Olds, and Sundre.

The Sundre area does not have a provincially funded long-term health care facility. As a result of this, the Foundation has accepted residents into the Foothills Retreat Lodge who would be more appropriately cared for in a long-term health care facility. The Foundation, the staff and the management of the Lodge have demonstrated a great deal of flexibility in accommodating residents outside of its mandate in order to keep long term community residents in the community. This fact has been a source of some difficulty for the staff and management of that Lodge although they have coped well under difficult circumstances.

Approximately three years ago the Foundation initiated a personal care program in an effort to respond to the needs of the residents within it's Lodges and to try to improve their quality of life. This unique pilot program has gained recognition across the province and has been lauded by the Health Facilities Review Committee. Since the program's inception, the Health Facilities Review Committee has been following it and its success within the Lodges. In relation to this, in August of last year with the support and encouragement of the Health Facilities Review Committee, the Foundation requested Laura Crawford, a consultant and trainer with the Alberta Association of Senior Citizens Homes to conduct a study of the program and it's overall effect within the Lodges. This report was received by the Foundation in July 1992 and though some concerns were identified regarding the operation of the program, the report found a dedicated and caring staff.

In June of this year, the Health Facilities Review Committee, a provincially appointed committee, advised the Foundation that it had received written and verbal complaints concerning the Foothills Retreat Lodge. The Foundation has received no information from the Health Facilities Review Committee advising of complaints prior to April of this year.

The Health Facilities Review Committee initiated an investigation and, without notice to the Foundation, attended at the Foothills Retreat Lodge at the beginning of June. On June 11, the Foundation met with Molly Warring, the Vice Chairperson of the Health Facilities Review Committee. At that time, the concerns arising from the Health Facilities Review Committee investigations were responded to orally. On June 22, the Foundation met with Pamela Raulston, Senior's Psychiatric Consultant with Alberta Health and requested an independent study of the Foothills Retreat Lodge. Ms. Raulston contracted with R & L Associates of Red Deer to do the study that resulted in the report dated August 30, 1992. On June 30, 1992, the Health Facilities Review Committee issued its report and forwarded it to the Foundation on July 14, 1992 and requested that the Foundation respond to its recommendations within 30 days of the June 30th date. The Foundation responded to each of the recommendations of the Health Facilities Review Committee in writing. The Foundation has responded to the concerns of the Health Facilities Review Committee in as timely a manner as possible. The Foundation has also attempted to work cooperatively with the Health Facilities Review Committee in achieving a mutually satisfactory result to the issues in question.

Media reports have suggested serious allegations of physical and verbal abuse. In the Health Facilities Review Committee Report issued June 30, 1992, not one complaint suggested physical abuse. The Foundation is not aware of one substantiated case of physical, verbal or psychological abuse of residents or staff.

The Foundation acknowledges that there are some problems at the Foothills Retreat Lodge. Most of the complaints from residents centre around concerns over staff rotation in the Lodge. This concern is also reflected in the independent report produced by R & L Associates. The Foundation also acknowledges that labor relations at the Lodge are strained at times. The Foundation began addressing these issues in May and are continuing to work with the staff to resolve them.

The Honorable Roy Brassard, Minister Responsible for Seniors has assured the Foundation that he recognizes their dedication and their concern and commitment to our Seniors.

The Foundation has always been willing to meet with interested parties to discuss improvements and criticism in its operation of the Lodges and have attempted to work with the Health Facilities Review Committee. Unfortunately, the Health Facilities Review Committee's process has been arbitrary and adversarial. As a result, the Health Facilities Review Committee has exacerbated the problems with staff morale in the Lodge and created new problems for the Foundation to deal with. As a result of this approach and the continued inuendo in the media, the Foundation felt it was necessary to issue this statement to "clear the air". The Board of the Foundation remain willing to meet with all members of the public to discuss the Health Facilities Review Committee Report, the R & L Associates Report, the Foundation response to the Health Facilities Review Committee's Report and the report by Laura Crawford in attempt to resolve these issues.

Constitutional accord questioned

Dear Editor:

On the evening of September 15, 1992, The Confederation of Regions Party held a very interesting meeting at the beautifully renovated old train station in Didsbury.

To begin, former president of CoR, Stan Cox, gave a good talk, pointing out that it's hard for a thoughtful Canadian to stand up and sing 'O Canada' when we must ask ourselves, "Are we really standing on guard for thee?" - this legacy of a free and beautiful country handed down by our courageous pioneer ancestors and the gallant Canadians who fought and died at Vimy Ridge, Paschendale, Dieppe, Ortona - . . . Stan then sang a more timely version of 'O Canada' with emphasis on the line "God help our land." For we are seeing that hard-won legacy being lost as our government impose upon us mountains of debt and useless paperwork, crushing taxes and now a debit-card, cashless system designed to deprive us of our last shred of privacy and independence. Equally alarming is the increasing violence in our land, with an ineffective justice system and the deliberate disarming of ordinary, peaceable citizens.

Stan then introduced Ray Young, CoR's interim leader, who combined his very informative talk with illustrations and facts on a board. In the matter of the Constitution that the Mulroney government is now trying to sell us, much of the wording is vague but Ray was able to give us numbers which show that the additional parliamentary seats given to Ontario and Quebec will ensure that central Canada can still outvote the entire senate combined with the parliamentary seats held by all the rest of Canada (210 to 186). Apparently there are exceptions that are supposed to protect provincial natural resources to prevent a repetition of the NEP that resulted in the wholesale robbery of Alberta. However, we must remember that the federal government has gone against the BNA Act these many years in imposing Income Tax and the GST upon us. Can we expect that they are suddenly going to turn a new leaf? We can be sure that if they don't tax natural resources, they will surely tax people for all that the traffic will bear - especially us poor white taxpayers to whom has been given no special concessions or status. Can you imagine any country functioning properly under such unequal conditions? The Confederation of Regions Party is adamantly opposed to the present Constitution - there's no light at the end of its tunnel. A constitution must belong to the people, not to manipulating politicians. It must be designed to ensure fairness and to protect the citizens against the excesses of government.

A question on the free-trade agreements was discussed, and, as can be seen by everybody but the propagandists, for Canadians free trade means loss of jobs and being reduced to the level of the third world. And there are other undesirable features as well.

Ray pointed out that the massive problems of this country cannot be remedied unless basic changes are made in the system that has permitted such decline. Control must be returned to the people through the policy of Initiative, Referendum and Recall, which is primary on CoR's agenda. Also primary must be reform of the monetary system.

There is no sane reason under the sun why a country blessed with much natural wealth should be in debt. The natural resources of Alberta in particular are so vast that this is without doubt one of the richest areas of the world. Alaska, with similar resources, shares them with its people through a sizeable cheque to each citizen every year. So why is Alberta now so deep in debt that the taxes needed to cover it cannot be levied without breaking the people? Gross mismanagement and an unworkable monetary system are the reasons. Our government should not be carelessly squandering taxpayers' money nor should we be paying interest on our own ample credit.

As Ray explained, the true purpose of government is to remove friction from among the people - to ensure justice, peace, order. Government should be a faithful servant to the people, a blessing instead of a curse.

Dear people, CoR has workable ideas but they must have the cooperation of people who understand the problems and want to share in the solutions.

Mrs. R. H. Ross
Olds

More response requested

Dear Editor:

As you know, September 20 was the day of the Terry Fox Run all over Canada. This year, I was fortunate enough to get picked from the volunteer bank to help with the event in Didsbury. There were 52 runners (an amount that tied with last year, I'm told), and roughly $1,700 was raised. This was my first year helping with the event, and the general feeling I got was that it went pretty good. (Special thanks to all who came, they did a good job!)

Maybe because I had never helped with this event before, I expected more from a town of three thousand people that prides itself on being the friendliest small town. But, when I start figuring it all out, I begin to wonder if maybe we couldn't have done more. $1,700 divided by 3,000 is 56 cents per person. Yet only 52 people showed up, so they were giving an average of $33.00. I'm pointing these figures out because I had hoped we would raise at least $3,000, or one dollar for every person in Didsbury. That Sunday was one of the first truly nice Sundays in a while, and I guess people wanted to take long drives, maybe go shopping, see various exhibitions and/or movies in other towns. Now, I'm not saying that there's anything wrong with that, but all of those things cost money - more money than it would have cost the people of Didsbury had they donated a dollar and gone in the Terry Fox run. Sure, it was a nice day, but this event only happens one day out of every year, so why miss it when you could be spending less money, and still be helping a worthy cause.

I'm disappointed that there wasn't more town spirit shown. The May Monarch week sees better results than this. (Not to put down the May Monarch, because it is a very good thing, but relatively speaking, you would think cancer should be more important.) If the citizens of Didsbury want to be on the map for something good, (and I know that you deserve that) not just something 'newsworthy', like a curfew that may never go through, then they should attend this event next year.

But if you can't wait that long to do a special kind of good that will long outlive any material things, the Canadian Cancer Society takes donations all year round. Their address is: Canadian Cancer Society Calgary and District Unit Office, 408 - 1105 11 Ave. S.W. Donations and information 244-2791.

A new T.V. won't last forever, but a human deserves to last longer.

Sincerely,
Yvonne Dick
Didsbury

No vote suggested

Dear Editor:

After reading my "Unity Package" regarding the new constitution I know how Jack's mother must have felt when she sent him to town to buy food and he came home with a handful of beans.

Page one listing the House of Commons lists Ontario as getting a further eighteen seats in parliament which would give them a total of 117. Quebec will pick up a further eighteen seats to give them 93. That's a total of 210 seats. The rest of the provinces of Canada and all the senate seats don't total those two province's 210 seats. Don Gettys mother must have shuddered when her son came home after a trip to the store. Didn't we send him to the store to try and buy some quality for Alberta? We ended up with a Senate that can delay legislation for 30 days, unless it has to do with provincial resources, and that's about it.

Under Aboriginal issues it says "Aboriginals, including those living off reserves, will be recognized as having an inherent right of self government". Then it says "The method for financing aboriginal self government will be determined in future negotiations". So Jack came home with a handful of beans but he held out his hand to his mother and said "Guess what I have in my hand Mom and guess how much you're going to make in payments?" It would appear that the natives have ended up with ownership of their own land and their own resources but where does it guarantee the right of private ownership of our land? Yes, my friends, just vote yes for this new constitution and you too may become distinct. You will be the ones paying. Some unity package!

There is one thing that saves this unity package. It says, "Albertans votes in this Referendum will be tabulated separately, and the results will be binding on the Alberta Legislature." We can vote it down! Did we get a Triple E senate? Yes! Equal, Elected, Eunuchs.

Dennis Combs,
Olds

Race for council seats wide open

By Elaine Wilson

With 12 candidates vying for six council seats for the town of Olds, and only 2 of those incumbents, the race is wide open.

"When you get that many newcomers, you can't make any predictions," said Mayor Bob Armstrong, recently returned to his seat by acclamation. "And remember, I have to work with whoever gets in. I wish them all the best and I look forward to working with whoever gets in."

Strong issues in the race include the environment and economics. Mitch Hunter, a pipeline operator with Amoco Canada Petroleum, says "There's a group of us (Mitch Hunter, Larry Bruder, also with Amoco, and Donna Stauffer) trying to get a zero per cent tax increase. (Inquiries in the past) tended to fall on deaf ears, so we figured the only way to get a response was to get a position on council."

Donna Stauffer, who works as a secretary part time for the Olds College Faculty Association added: "With the economy the way it is, lots of people are worried about keeping their jobs. Let's take a look at where our tax dollars are going and make sure that we're getting our dollar's worth."

Lorna Erickson, who's been the accountant with Foothills Natural Gas Co-op for nearly 10 years, would like to see Olds keep up with the rest of Alberta on environmental issues and place more of a focus on planning for the future.

"We have to plan where we want to be 5 years from now," she said. "Do we want a truck bypass route going through an expensive residential section? When someone buys a house they should know what's planned for that area. There should be more forecasting and they should stick to their plan."

William Edgar, owner and president of Mountain View Funeral Chapel is familiar with council proceedings, mentioning the 7 years he served as the former mayor of Olds.

"I just felt that I could perhaps give them a bit of guidance and help. The people in the community have been very good to me and I felt people should get involved."

Interest in the job is another factor for getting involved for some. Glenn Elmer, a former town councillor and agency supervisor for Canadian Western Natural Gas said "I enjoyed my time on council. There's a few things I'd like to do. I'm very strong about Olds going forth on the Aqua Center. I would still like to work with the college on that project."

Jim Spicer, former councillor and owner of Spicer Sales and Service agreed. "I just would kind of like the job. I wanted to do it again."

Roger Kinney, a retired farmer and another former councillor said, "There are a few things I didn't finish when I was on before. There are a few things that have been in abeyance for the last 3 years that must come to fruition."

Darlene McNabb, a teacher's aide at the Olds High School says: "I really am interested in fiscal responsibility and looking to the future. There are a lot of issues to consider."

Art Rowland incumbent councillor and crew foreman with TransAlta Utilities for 38 years will be retiring on September 30. "It was getting a little hectic, but I said I'd run again if I decided to retire from TransAlta. We've only got 3 councillors left with any experience and we have a new town manager. We're facing some tough times and some tough decisions."

Gary Spurrell is with Alberta

Agriculture Farm Business Management Branch. He says: "I'm willing to deal with the issues as they come and I feel that they are all equally important. I'm going to work in the best interests of the people of this community. I've really enjoyed living in Olds for the past 3 1/2 years and I feel that I would like to give something back to the Olds community."

Incumbent councillor Ken Gillie, also running for a position on the hospital board, could not be reached for comment.

Also running for hospital board positions are Beryl Henderson, Norma Alcock and Mary Jane Harper. The three school board positions have been filled by acclamation by Hugh Robinson, Thomas Thomsen and Tammy Peterman.

All aboard for Old's new Subway

You don't have to go to the city anymore to catch the subway...Olds now has one of its very own. Starting today (Tuesday, Sept. 29th) the new Subway restaurant is opening its doors for business.

Owner/Operator Pat Hager says the idea to open up a fast food restaurant in town actually came from Mexico. Pat and her husband were vacationing there last winter when they met up with another couple from Alberta already operating two such franchises of their own. "It just seemed like such a good business prospect to us," says Pat. "...my husband farms out by Eagle Hill, and I've always wanted to do something different by myself; so here I am."

The fact that the idea of operating her own business isn't intimidating to Pat. The thorough two-week training program the Subway franchise put her through in Milford Connecticut covered everything from management to food preparation. "They just teach you it all down there...right from marketing to working the controls on some of the equipment and preparing the food. The information they gave me was very, very practical. I feel I'm ready."

With the long hours of training and preparation behind her now, Pat feels confident her product will meet even the toughest scrutiny. The secret, she says, lies in how you prepare the perfect submarine sandwich by starting with the trademark "U-gouge" cut. "We slice all our buns in the shape of a u which seems to work really well. It allows you to put more ingredients and toppings into each sandwich."

The other half of the secret lies in the ingredients themselves. Pat says her shop will use only fresh products in their food. The bread, for example, will be baked everyday and only the best cheese, meat, and vegetable toppings will be allowed.

Contrary to what some may believe, Subway offers much more than solely submarine sandwiches. Salads, and a variety of drinks and desserts including cookies, muffins, turnovers and danishes are also available.

Hungry patrons can pay Subway a visit anytime Monday to Thursday from 6 a.m. to midnight, Friday and Saturday from 6 a.m. to 2 a.m. and Sunday from 9 a.m. to midnight.

The best part? No subway tokens required!

From puppy to champion

By Elaine Wilson

'Netook Courtman Otto' is a champion English Springer Spaniel puppy. His owner and trainer is long time Olds area resident David Ogilvie, now retired from his position of nearly 30 years as herdsman, at Olds College.

Although the final results are not yet available for the season, there's a good chance Otto will be the high point puppy in Western Canada. Only 23 months old, Netook Courtman Otto has already amassed an impressive collection of trophies and ribbons in his first year of active competition. Closing out the season, Otto and Ogilvie recently finished eight days of trials over two weeks. The final round of trials commenced in Weyburn, Saskatchewan on August 29, 1992 and finished in Edmonton September 13, 1992. Out of 11 placements Otto took five fourths, one third, two seconds and three firsts.

Ogilvie's affinity for Springer Spaniels is rooted in his native Scotland. He uses the same intensive training methods his uncle, George Curle, employed to yield British champions.

"It takes a lot of time and it's an expensive hobby," Ogilvie says. "There's no returns. Entry fees are expensive. Puppy stakes are $25.00 per day, open dogs are $75.00. There's travel expenses and then there's the birds used for training - pigeons are $2.50 per bird. Pheasants will run you as high as $10.00 per bird."

Over the last 5 years David Ogilvie has become a serious breeder and trainer of premiere English Springer Spaniels. "I have puppies all the way from Fort McMurray to Knoxville Tennessee."

Some of Otto's siblings are also beginning to show definite promise. "It's a line that has just clicked; they're just perfection."

Because he's still a puppy, Otto won't be competing in the Canadian English Springer National Trials until next fall in Nova Scotia. "If Otto places in any open class next year, he will be in the National," Ogilvie asserted.

In an Open Stakes competition dog and trainer must work as a team. A row of flags separate two courses. Two dogs running different series alongside one another must not interfere in any way with activity outside their area. If a dog on the adjoining course flushes a bird, your dog must automatically sit down. If he sits without a command, that is considered an honor and nets extra marks. Three 'gunners' stand ready to shoot down the birds used as quarry. When the bird drops to the ground the dog systematically sweeps the course in search of game. Every section of ground must be covered or points are docked. The faster the dog can pinpoint where the bird has dropped, the higher the points. Judges like to see the dogs work freely with as little instruction as possible.

On September 1, 1992 Otto went through three full series without an error becoming the youngest dog in the history of the Saskatoon course with that distinction. He ran against 46 other dogs including three American national champions, two Canadian national champions, and three other field trial winners.

While Otto worked through the course, the dog running on the other side of the flags flushed a bird. Otto sat immediately without waiting for a command. The bird dropped just a few feet away. Otto remained in place. Maintaining steady eye contact from 40 yards, David Ogilvie whistled twice and held his breath. The other dog was having some difficulty finding the bird and ran past Otto several times. Otto remained frozen in place, the bird resting only a few tantalizing feet from his nose.

The moment of truth arrived when the judge instructed Ogilvie to call his dog in.

Otto's reaction would determine if he was merely a talented puppy or a true champion. Untold hours of training had been spent building up to that moment.

"My heart stopped," Ogilvie said. "What's he going to do? There aren't many dogs that'll do it. I gave the command and he never looked back. He was unbelievable. I could have cried. When he did that, that day, those (trophies and ribbons) didn't mean a hill of beans."

Uncle George would have approved.

SUNDRE/WESTWARD HO NEWS

Snake Hill plebiscite

By Bob Boucher

Over the past few months, there has been much controversy concerning the rezoning of Snake Hill for housing. The residents of Sundre will have an opportunity to express their opinion on the proposal when election day arrives on October 19th. It will be on a separate ballot from the Civic Election. The question that will be posed to the voters is as follows:

Do you favor approximately twenty acres of land situated at the base of the North slope of Snake Hill, (legally described as part of NE 1/4 4-33-5-W5) being developed for housing, as proposed under Town of Sundre bylaw 631?

This will be a yes or no vote.

SUNDRE / WESTWARD HO NEWS

Sundre election update

By Bob Boucher

Election time, a time when we should all ask ourselves a simple question...

Am I satisfied with the representatives that we now have on our town council? On our school or hospital boards? In municipalities, counties, provinces or Dominion?

If your answer is no...then you are fortunate, for on the nineteenth of October you have a chance to let your voice be heard with your own personal vote. You may say that your vote never seems to count anyway, so why vote? Perhaps, there are too many persons in the country who have the same attitude. All they seem to do is complain about the representatives that are elected and never do any voting. You paid many dollars in taxes for this vote, be sure you collect.

The following is a list of candidates running in the civic election in Sundre on October 19th. The poll will be open, in the Town Office, from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. An advanced polling day will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 14, 1992, between the hours of 5 and 8 p.m.

Mayor - Terry Leslie, by acclamation.

Councillors - Carl H. Nelson, Bill Scott, Ray Keoll, Patricia Toone, Don Ledene, Bill Cooper and Tom Hornberger.

School Board - Dale Loomis, by acclamation and Joe Henze, by acclamation.

Hospital Board - Lorraine Doering, by acclamation.

The Returning Officer for the Town of Sundre is Harvey Doering.

Profiles of Election Candidates

Mayor by acclamation

Mr. Terry Leslie

Leslie has been a resident of Sundre for thirteen years and is Vice Principal at the Sundre Elementary School.

Leslie's reason for staying in office at this time, is to complete many projects that council has spent time and energy on concerning long term planning. Leslie stated that Sundre has been fortunate in the last eighteen months for the millions of dollars that have come into the community from the Caroline Gas Plant.

Leslie's plans for the economic stability of Sundre will focus on tightening up on spending and the encouragement of Tourism in the area.

For Council

Mr. Tom Hornberger

Hornberger has been a resident of Sundre for fourteen years and is the Manager of the Valley Mobile Park on the east side of Sundre.

Hornberger stated that he spent 3 enjoyable years being Scoutmaster of the Sundre Boy Scout Troop. He was also with the Fire Department for 3 years but had to leave on account of his health. He and his wife have now taken on the duties of being Beaver Leaders.

His concerns are for the seniors and also to represent the populous from the east side of Sundre. Hornberger stated that he will focus his efforts on the progress and growth of Sundre.

Mr. Bill Cooper
Cooper, who is a teacher at the Sundre Elementary School, was an area resident for twelve years prior to moving into Sundre where he has now lived for the past twelve years. Cooper is also on the Library Board, being a liaison between the district and Sundre libraries.

When asked, "What prompted you to run for council?" Cooper answered that he hoped to make a difference in the progress of Sundre, recreation in particular. "What comes after Shell? We need a solid economic base to rely on to progress. Tourism and recreation are a natural for the area."

Mr. Carl Nelson
Nelson, who is now retired, has lived in the Sundre area for five years and in the Town for 1½ years. Nelson mentioned that being a new resident in Sundre, he will be feeling his way and slowly get acquainted with the wants and needs of the area.

Nelson is interested in seeing that progress is made in the growth of Sundre, whether it be in agriculture or manufacturing. One of his concerns is for the seniors of the area, where modest rents and pleasant surroundings will be available.

Mr. Don Ledene

Ledene has lived in Sundre for three years and works in the Traffic Department of transportation at Sunpine Forest Products Ltd. He was a Scout Leader in the past and was always involved in

Trade Fair

Sundre held its annual Harvest Trade Fair last weekend. People flocked out to see booths from all sorts of businesses and services from around the Sundre area.

youth recreational programs.

Ledene, whose children are now all grown, considered running for council and after much persuasion by his friends and neighbours, entered the arena.

Ledene is interested in seeing stable growth in Sundre, with a greater variety of activities for the younger generation.

Mrs. Patricia Toone

Toone has been a resident of Sundre for 41 years, and operates the Petro Canada Service Station with her husband. She also maintains her own household.

Toone's decision to seek election on the Sundre Town Council came from a suggestion by the Chamber of Commerce.

Toone would like to see a slow gradual growth of businesses with sound foundations in Sundre. She would also like to have taxes remain at the present level, and to see the town operate within its present availability of funds.

School Board

Mr. Dale Loomis by acclamation

Loomis has been a resident of Sundre for four years and is Manager of the Alberta Liquor Store.

Loomis was approached by various groups to place his name on the ballot as a School Board nominee, and after some deliberation, decided that it would be a terrific undertaking that would perhaps allow some of his knowledge and views on education to be utilized.

CREMONA/WATER VALLEY NEWS

County ratepayers association proposed

By Kathy Parsons

Over 100 people packed the Water Valley Community Hall last Thursday for a meeting with County Planning and Development Officer, Ken Taylor. The meeting was called to deal with the growing concerns over development in County of Mountain View District 2 and to explore the possibility of forming a Ratepayers Association to allow residents a means of having an impact on the decisions being made.

Most of the discussion concerned the Water Valley area specifically. Water Valley has long been recognized for its potential as a high demand area as a "bedroom community" for Calgary and a gateway to the west country. Local residents feel that the increasing population in this area is overloading present facilities and no immediate plans are being made to meet these or future needs.

It is generally felt that the local municipal government is allowing subdivisions and developments without fully considering the impact on schools, roads, police and fire protection and other amenities.

The proposed function of the Association is listed as giving local residents the ability to "influence municipal and provincial decisions about levels of law enforcement, fire protection, Fish and Wildlife Officer support and assessment and taxation."

The proposal also states a desire to "influence local and regional planning decisions about subdivision and zoning, waste management, road construction and maintenance, commercial development, provisions for public services and utilities and environmental impact studies."

These issues have come to a head of late because of recent talk of major developments. A road proposal this summer, to link the north road from Water Valley to the new Burnt Timber Gas Plant Road brought an avalanche of protest from some local residents.

They questioned the need for the road and were concerned about the environmental impact of the proposed route which crosses a marsh-filled valley

Truck donation

Nova donated a rescue truck to the Cremona Fire Department last week. Making the presentation from Nova is Carol Coplas. On hand is Captain Craig Lerbekmo, Kris Lashmore, Chris Cluney and Bert Seehawer.

Nova helps upgrade fire department

By Kathy Parsons

It took a year and a lot of work but the Cremona Fire Department recently took possession of a new Fire and Rescue Unit.

Thanks to Nova Corporation, who supplied the truck and box, the Department now has a unit specially equipped to respond to the increasing number of medical calls.

Deputy Chief, Barry Boyle, says the unit was desperately needed. "We've had a huge increase in the number of medical calls we receive and up until now we've had to respond in the pumper truck."

An increase in traffic on Highway 22 along with more people enjoying residences and recreation time in the area has put the Department under increased pressure to supply services without proper equipment.

Volunteer Firefighter, Bert Seehawer, commented that, "people don't realize that we are often called in by the ambulance service to respond first because their response time can take up to forty minutes or more. We're much closer."

The new unit will speed up Cremona's response time which can make the difference between life and death in some circumstances. The Fire Department has worked hard to train all their members in first aid and CPR to handle the increase and all they needed to improve their service was a faster and better equipped rescue unit.

Seehawer took Carol Coplas of Nova on a tour through the vehicle explaining all its features and noting all the extra time members had put in to fit it out. "It's been a lot of work to wire lighting and install the equipment but it's been worth it," he said. "The unit is worth its weight in gold."

Grizzlies cause concern in Fallen Timber

By Kathy Parsons

Fallen Timber residents found themselves as the hosts to unwanted guests last week in the form of two grizzly bears. Concern rose after repeated sightings in the area including one resident who found the errant two on his front lawn.

Fish and Wildlife Officers came to investigate and found that the bears were frequenting the area because they were feeding on a buried carcass.

The bears were believed to be about 2½ years old and "probably sent off to establish their own territory by the sow bear," commented Olds Fish and Wildlife Officer, Gerry Filipchuk.

According to Filipchuk, there was nothing unusual or unnatural about their presence in the area and that the easy feeding on the carcass is what attracted them and kept them there.

"Bears feed heavily this time of year to build their fat reserves for winter and they are opportunists, like most animals, and were taking advantage of an easy meal," Filipchuk added.

The Bear Response Team, made up of specially trained Fish and Wildlife Officers, set traps and the bears were caught and relocated.

"We don't relocate every bear seen," Filipchuk explained.

"But these two were perceived as a threat because of their close ranging to residences and the nearby campsite."

Filipchuk advises area residents to prevent this kind of encounter with bears by disposing of their dead animals properly. "This is prime grizzly and black bear habitat and the best way to prevent problems is to have any carcasses removed from the property by animal processors."

Pumpkin Festival plans in place

By Janice Harrington

Despite the frosty, cold weather of the last little while, plans are still in place for the eight annual Carstairs Pumpkin Festival.

Scheduled for Saturday, October 3, the festival will highlight the best in area pumpkin growers by allowing farmers and hobby gardeners to compete for the title of Pumpkin

King and Queen as well as for a variety of competition prizes.

Contest categories include Baking - pumpkin pie (canned or fresh), pumpkin cookies, pumpkin cake (iced), pumpkin loaf, other (any edible pumpkin creation); Scarecrow - general and novelty; Pumpkin growing - most perfect locally grown (junior and senior), largest locally grown (junior and senior), most perfect out of town (junior and senior) and largest out of town (junior and senior); Novelty pumpkin - famous personalities, fairy tales, transportation and general; Created pumpkin - general; and Poster contest - grades 1 through 3 and grades 4 through 6.

Pumpkin King and Queen titles will be awarded to the highest scorers from the Pumpkin Pentathlon contest. Entrants will be tested on various aspects of the pumpkin. Other entertainment for the festival will include the Hi-land Swingers square dancers, singer Brenda Cipperly and the Carstairs Kitchen Band.

Tables will also be set up for displays and sales. A prize will be awarded for the best dressed table.

Doors to the Carstairs Curling Rink will open from 7 to 9 p.m. on Friday night to allow delivery of entries and table set up. Judging starts at 10 a.m. Saturday morning with the doors opening for public viewing at 11 a.m.

For more information on the festival call 337-3555 or 337-3083.

National housing starts drop in August

National housing starts declined 14 per cent in August to a seasonally adjusted annual rate (SAAR) of 154,000 units from the revised July level of 179,000 units SAAR, reported Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

Urban single detached starts decreased 11 per cent to 66,000 units SAAR, while urban multiple starts dropped 21 per cent to 64,000 units SAAR.

The August decline related mainly to lower social housing and private market single starts in Ontario and lower single, rental and condominium starts in Quebec. Ontario starts in urban areas dropped from 59,000 units in July to 44,000 units SAAR, while Quebec urban starts were down to 19,000 units from 29,000 units SAAR.

"Much of the decrease in Ontario starts was expected as construction of social housing units rose substantially in July and fell to lower levels again in August," said Gilles Proulx, Chief Economist of CMHC's Market Analysis Centre. "Lower levels of singles starts in Ontario are the result of a slower economic recovery in the province."

"Lower starts were also anticipated in Quebec as pent-up demand from first-time buyers has for the most part been satisfied," said Proulx. "This, along with high rental vacancies and the weak economic recovery, is keeping residential construction low."

Housing starts in British Columbia were marginally higher at 39,000 units SAAR, up from 37,000 units SAAR, as construction of condominiums rose slightly, offsetting a decline in rental starts.

Activity was higher in Alberta due to increased condominium starts and in Nova Scotia because of stronger singles. Starts were lower in P.E.I., New Brunswick, Manitoba and Saskatchewan and the same in Newfoundland.

Loomis believes that the schools should return to the basic teachings of "the Three R's." He stated that many children today cannot write or spell properly. Mr. Joe Henze by acclamation.

Henze has been a resident of Sundre for 27 years and is the Manager of the Sundre Hotel.

Henze has spent 18 years on the Board of Education endeavoring to prevent, as he stated,

"a waste of knowledge." Mr. Henze's precept for the schools of Sundre is to prevent unnecessary spending. Henze stated, "If we don't have the money, don't buy it." Henze also mentioned that many of the problems of today's society are due to overspending.

More profiles on election candidates will run in upcoming issues.

considered prime wildlife habitat which has remained quite isolated because there is no direct access.

However, some people seem to be in favor of this road as it will provide a direct link up to Sundre as well as potentially increase tourist traffic through the hamlet.

Local developers are also rumored to have major development ideas for the area and residents seem to have a legitimate cause for concern with the County working and making decisions based on a Structural Plan developed for the area 13 years ago.

Additional concern is related to all the new residential development without any immediate plans for public water and sewer systems. At present all lots have wells and septic tank systems and residents worry about water quantity and quality.

The County sees no need for an updated Structural Plan until the present plan has been fulfilled and County Councillor Diane Davies agrees, "let's take this plan to its ultimate and decide from there how to proceed," she told the meeting.

In the meantime, residents feel that the potential for disaster is too great and want to take action now. Many support the development of the area but are concerned that sufficient planning has not been done and a "mess like Bragg Creek" as one resident put it, will develop.

The proposed Ratepayers Association met with enough approval that Chairman of the meeting, Bud Sheppard, got agreement to have another meeting in four weeks time to formalize and initiate it.

Minimizing Waste saves money for Small Business

A recent pilot project on waste minimization conducted in Red Deer turned up some money-saving ideas for small business. In the auto body repair business, for example, it showed that overall paint usage and wastage can be cut significantly by using high-volume, low-pressure spray equipment. Offices save a bundle by employing scrap paper for telephone pads. And for any organization, replacing incandescent light bulbs with energy efficient models or compact fluorescent lamps is a very bright idea.

If you're a medium to small business looking for ways to save money, you'll find these and other money-saving suggestions in a new series of fact sheets called Waste Minimization in the Workplace. Developed by ASWMC, Alberta Environment, and the provincial Action on Waste program in cooperation with Alberta Public Works and the City of Red Deer, they contain specific how-to ideas for auto service and repair shops, maintenance yards, offices, printers, photographic developers and grocery stores. For your set, contact Alberta Environment, Action on Waste, or call ASWMC: 1-800-272-8873.

Carstairs recently received nearly $30,000 in provincial grants to set up a recycling project in the old Mountain View Seed Cleaning plant. Paper and cardboard will soon be accepted for the project. Watch for an official start up date announcement.

FSAM benefit in NISA application

Applying for the Net Income Stabilization Account (NISA) could have an extra benefit for farmers in the 1991 tax year, even if they don't qualify for a payout says an Alberta Agriculture specialist.

And if farmers want to take advantage of that opportunity, they should hurry as the application deadline is September 30 says Merle Good of the farm business management branch in Olds.

"This one-time benefit is available through the federal government's Farm Support and Adjustment Measures (FSAM) special assistance program," he says. Good adds he explained the benefit during Unifarm sponsored meetings across the province designed to give farmers more information about NISA.

For example, if a farmer's eligible sales are $100,000, then the two per cent NISA contribution is $2,000. Both levels of government contribute another $2,000. FSAM contributes another one and one-half per cent, or $1,500. This puts a total of $5,500 in the individual's NISA account.

"Or, the producer has the option of assigning these funds as part of their producer contribution," he says.

Using the previous example, the $1,500 would make up the majority of the producer's NISA contribution. The farmer would only have to add another $500 to make up the two per cent contribution. "The total in the NISA account is $4,000, or a 8:1

benefit from the farmer's $500 contribution," he adds.

NISA allows farmers to deposit up to two per cent of their eligible net sales into a personal account. Both the federal and provincial governments make a matching contribution of one per cent each, effectively doubling the producer's investment. Either a stabilization or minimum income trigger allow farmers to collect from the account.

NISA accounts also earn a three per cent interest bonus on producer contributions. Good also notes the interest clock begins ticking as soon as the NISA administration receives a farmer's application.

In Alberta, the NISA program was recently expanded to include ranch fur and non-edible horticulture such as bedding plants, flowers, sod, seeds and bulbs.

All eligible producers have until September 30 to apply for NISA. Application forms are available by calling the federal government's NISA information line at 1-800-665-NISA (6472). Operators can also answer questions about the program or the application form.

NISA applications for the 1991 tax year will be accepted after September 30, until December 31, 1992, but benefits will be reduced by five per cent per month after the September 30 deadline.

Evaluation reports released

The Alberta Farm Machinery Research Centre has released evaluation reports on an air seeder and wing-type packer.

The Bourgault 2155 II air seeder and WTP 36-40 wing-type packer were field tested in conjunction with each other. "This combination offers the farmer a one-pass conservation tillage, seeding and packing system," says Greg Magyar, a field technologist at the Lethbridge centre.

Designed for use with different makes and models of cultivators, the air seeder can apply seed, fertilizer, granular chemical, or any combination of two of those operations. The packer can be used with the air seeder or a cultivator, and as a separate operation.

"Fertilizer, granular chemicals and various grains were tested in the lab to let us determine how well the metering and distribution systems worked," says Magyar. The report-number 658--includes information related to the metering accuracy, distribution uniformity and spread uniformity.

During the field tests, ease of operating and adjusting the unit, power requirements and operator safety were also evaluated. Maintenance, filling and cleaning, transporting, monitoring and setting the application rate are also covered in the report.

In the packer evaluation report (number 664), soil finishing, packer performance, maintenance, hitching, transporting, power requirements and operator safety are discussed.

For more information about direct seeding and other types of conservation equipment, contact the Alberta Farm Machinery Research Centre, 3000 College Drive South, Lethbridge, Alberta, T1K 1L6, or telephone 329-1212.

TRAVEL & ENTERTAINMENT

Transportation program extended

A program announced in May 1992 by Greyhound Lines of Canada and Air Canada offering travellers a new intermodal transportation option, will be extended until December 15, 1992. Originally available from June 3 to September 7, 1992, the program allows Air Canada ticket purchasers from most communities outside the metropolitan cities of Vancouver, Edmonton, Calgary and Toronto, to travel free by coach from the Greyhound terminal in the area where travel originates to the bus terminal in the airport city. A shuttle bus then takes them to airports in Vancouver, Edmonton, Calgary or Toronto. The air ticket must be valued at $259 or more and the program works in reverse on the return trip.

"Greyhound is pleased to continue offering this innovative travel option as a result of our alliance with Air Canada," said Dick Huisman, president and chief executive officer of Greyhound. "Those planning a business trip or a vacation this fall can take advantage of the program's extension."

"This value-added service means more convenience for our passengers," said Hollis Harris, Air Canada's vice-chairman, president and chief executive officer. "Greyhound's customer service philosophy is very much in keeping with our own and this program reinforces our unique partnership."

Greyhound Lines of Canada operates Canada's largest inter-city bus company, linking more than 1,100 towns and cities. It also operates Greyhound Courier Express, a courier and small package delivery service throughout Canada in addition to a charter fleet with service across North America.

Air Canada is a fully privatized international airline linking 62 Canadian communities through its Connector carriers, AirBC, Air Ontario, Air Nova, Air Alliance and NWT Air.

Air Canada's passenger route network offers scheduled services to 25 North American cities. Through its domestic Regional Airlines, another 50 Canadian communities and four cities in the United States, are linked to its network. Air Canada serves 22 cities in Europe and the Caribbean. Charter passenger services are provided to 15 international destinations.

Shelby Crest - practise makes perfect

By Elaine Wilson

According to Dennis Chrest, his son is "a normal teenager who never picks up after himself." Although 16 year old Shelby Chrest may share the average teenager's disregard for laundry hampers, his athletic prowess is anything but typical.

Chrest, an Olds native who's been bowling since the age of 6, placed first nationally in bowling for his age group two years running (1987 and 1988). In golf, he has a handicap of 5 and is currently ranked 13th nationally for golfers under 18. "Locally, when I was 12 I was competing (in golf) against 18 year olds," he said.

He stopped counting ribbons and trophies long ago but estimates he has around a hundred packed away in a stack of boxes.

Cash prizes escalate with the level of competition but Chrest's winnings are largely used to offset the considerable outlay necessary for top level competition. The Alberta Golf Association covered expenses for the four members of the Alberta Team to take part in the national tournament held in Sydney Nova Scotia in August 1992. "It's a good thing, too," Chrest noted, "or I probably wouldn't have been able to go. I try to pick up some extra money in bowling tournaments throughout the winter. I've been going in the adult ones, these past couple of years."

Top prizes in adult bowling tournaments can run up to $10,000. To date Chrest's personal best was a tie for third in Red Deer which netted him $500.

Cramming extra practice sessions into an already tight schedule, he also plays football, volleyball and works in some track events. He also holds down a part time job at Spare Time Bowl in Olds, where he's been employed since he was 12.

"I play and practice more than most people but my Dad would like me to practice more, probably," Chrest said.

"Natural talent will only take you so far," Dennis Chrest admonished his son who grinned back at him. "You can get too complacent. If you're going to be a winner you have to keep working at it."

Dennis Chrest coached his son until the student began surpassing his teacher. Although he began beating his Dad regularly in the bowling alley when he was 14, with golf Chrest says: "It's just been the last year maybe, 'cause, like, he's still good!"

Dennis Chrest describes his son as a good winner.

"He's relatively the same, win or lose," he said. "He doesn't get cocky when he wins and he doesn't get really down or make excuses when he loses. He seems to get along with all ages. Kids seem drawn to him and several seniors have told me 'I played golf with your son the other day and I really enjoyed the experience.'"

"Boy's junior golf is very difficult, very competitive," Dennis Chrest advised. "There are probably 500 boys in Alberta trying to qualify to get into the Alberta Juniors and the competition's quite stiff."

Interestingly enough, Shelby's own name was chosen from the pages of a golfing magazine. "I happened to be reading a golfing article," Dennis Chrest recalled. "There was a golf pro in the States called Shelby Futch. It kind of stuck in my mind."

At this stage, Shelby said he's not seriously entertaining plans to pursue sports professionally.

"It would be nice, but in golf it's tougher than what people think," he said. "They think you're playing all the time, winning lots of money."

He plans to go to university after graduation from high school, possibly pursuing a career in business management. "Hopefully," Chrest concluded,

"I'll find some kind of golf scholarship!"

Sundre pool update

By Bob Boucher

No, not as you may anticipate, this article is not on the evolution of man, but on the evolution of an idea conceived from the views of many staunch boosters of Sundre and District, to build a swimming pool.

Not just a pool, the plan is to develop an area where there will be facilities available for all ages, from babies to the seniors and the physically handicapped. The proposed pool will encompass areas for therapeutic treatment by the hospital as well as recreation.

A committee was first formed in the fall of 1991 to complete a feasibility survey. Upon finding the plan feasible, a Board of Directors, consisting of Lonnie Halladay, Roger Kyncl, Don Molesky, and Al Tsuji and a fundraising committee consisting of Leona Bennett, Dianne Halladay and Donna Sandberg, were formed.

The site chosen for the new pool complex, is adjacent to the south side of the present Curling Rink, where the concession facilities will also service the pool complex.

Enthusiasm for the project has taken on momentous strides, with groups of children from the elementary grades up to the high school level participating in fundraising projects. The high school doanted $8,000 in the spring of 1992 and plans to continue to make donations each year. The Striders Road Race to be held October 3rd will be donating all their proceeds to the pool project. There are numerous fundraising projects active at the present time. One such project is called, "Operation Cow Call." More information on this, and other projects will be disclosed in future issues of The Review.

The total estimated cost of the project is $1 million for an open pool area and $1.3 million for a closed one. At present the Committee has cash in the bank totaling $251,000, plus the land site. The projected time to start building is the spring of 1994, provided that all funds needed are in place. Anyone wishing to make a cash donation may do so at the Mountain View Credit Union in Sundre. Donations are tax deductible and pledges will be accepted.

More information about the Striders Road Race on Oct. 3 can be gained by calling John Bouz at 638-4263.

Obituary

DUBOIS

Mary Dubois of Didsbury passed away at the Mountain View Health Care Centre, Didsbury, on Wednesday, Sept. 23, 1992 at the age of 76 years.

She is survived by her daughter, Donna and husband David McWhinney of Calgary; her sons Gerald and wife Marlene, and Dennis and wife Connie of Toronto.

She treasured her three grandchildren Erin and Robert McWhinney and Jonathan Dubois. Mary will be missed by brothers Roy and Leonard of Didsbury and Elmer of Calgary.

She was predeceased by her husband Robert, an infant son, Edmond Terrance, her parents John and Katherine Luft; sisters Emma Bogner, Elsie Baudistel and brothers Henry, Fred and August.

Mary was born in Calgary and raised in Westcott, Alberta. She married Robert on October 15, 1941 and moved to Welland, Ontario where Gerald and Terrance were born. After the war, Mary, Bob and family returned to Alberta to farm west of Didsbury where they remained until 1957. During this time, Donna and Dennis were born. In 1958, the family moved to Cremona where they remained until Bob's retirement in 1978. During much of this time Mary worked at the Marshall Wells Store and Rose's General Store, and was well known in the community.

During her lifetime, Mary was active in the Westcott W.I., enjoyed curling and ceramics.

Mary will be remembered by family and friends for her quiet strength, thoughtfulness and kindness.

Funeral services were held on Monday, Sept. 28, 1992 at 2 p.m. from the Zion Evangelical Church, 2025 - 20 Avenue, Didsbury with Pastor Richard A. Pahl officiating. Interment in the Didsbury Cemetery.

Pallbearers were: Allan Bogner, Doug Luft, Terry Luft, Jim Baudistel, Greg Genoway and Neil Youngs. Honorary pallbearers were Eleanor Martin, Helen Befus, Hazel Youngs, Bernice Thurston, Mary Marg Hubbard, Cheryl Dahl, Hilda Frizzell and Eunice Avent.

If friends desire, memorial tributes may be given to the Alberta Heart & Stroke Foundation, #101, 5208 - 53rd Avenue, Red Deer, Alberta T4N 5K2. Mountain View Funeral Chapels, Olds & Didsbury entrusted with arrangements.

The Way of Life

By Bruce Wiebe, Pastor Bergthal Mennonite Church Is God On Vacation?

As a community, you have warmly welcomed this stranger into your midst. I have become enchanted with the scenery and the wildlife, refreshed by the rural pace of life, and warmed by your smiles and greetings. I have felt blessed. However, in the past month, all of us have experienced the full spectrum of seasons, and not everyone has felt blessed. It appears as if God took a vacation when many of us needed him most.

A lady, leaving for holidays, barely left herself enough time to get to the airport. As she jumped into the cab, she bowed her head and prayed, "Dear God, please let there be a parking spot by the entrance to the terminal." Slowed by an accident the taxi crept along, and the lady began to pray more earnestly, "Please God, let there be a parking spot by the entrance." It was going to be tight. Finally, as they neared the airport the lady glanced up from her prayers and sure enough, there by the entrance was a parking spot. A quick word was all she had time for: "Forget it, Lord, I see a spot myself."

The ways of God are difficult to fathom, and even harder to wait on. It is much easier to assume responsibility and look for a spot ourselves. Perhaps God is not on vacation after all. Perhaps we have not yet recognized our blessings. Perhaps we need to get away with God.

Peace and Hope

New pastor installed

By Erna Goerzen

The installation of Bruce Wiebe as pastor in Bergthal Mennonite Church took place during the morning worship service on September 6, 1992. Bruce and his wife Noreen were accepted as members of this congregation and were welcomed together with their son Terrell.

David Braun, Conference Pastor, came from Lethbridge to perform the ceremony and to give the morning message: "There was a man," based on John 1:6-8. Music and song were presented by Gary and Joanne Peters of Didsbury and Tim and Donita Wiebe-Neufeld of Camp

Valaqua.

The Wiebes come from Carman, Manitoba. They have served in Calgary, where Bruce has been Youth Pastor in Foothills Mennonite Church and pastor of Trinity Menn. Church. Noreen is a childcare worker and is continuing her training in this field.

The celebration included a pot-luck dinner for all those present. The people at Bergthal Mennonite Church rejoice at the coming of the new pastoral family and wish to share in fellowship and work together with them in God's Kingdom.

From The Game of Words by Willard R. Espy (793.7)

Acronyms: An acronym is word formed of the initials of other words. WASP, for instance, is an acronym for "white Anglo-Saxon Protestant".

Technically, a combination of initials does not become an acronym until it is accepted as word in its own right. Loosely, however, the term acronym is applied to any series of first letters of the words in a given phrase, even when these letters do not themselves form accepted words. I give you two sets of such informal acronyms, the first drawn from nursery rhymes and the second from Shakespeare.

Nursery Rhymes:

1. Omhwtctghpdab
2. Dddmsj
3. Twalmahhaig
4. Wwwwrttt
5. Ssmagpttf

Shakespearean:

1. Tfbntbtq
2. Ftniw
3. Arbaonwas
4. Nitwoodmgsbtsoy
5. Ahahmkfah
6. Orrwatr

Drop by the Town Library to see if you guessed right. The answers will be posted at the Reserve Rack on the front counter.

Southwest Didsbury news

By Bessie Eckstrand

The countryside was shocked, stunned and saddened on Friday evening, Sept. 11 at 11 p.m. when an explosion killed our neighbor and friend, Cecil Weber. Dennis and Wanda and family had just moved their double-wide onto the parental farm. Our sincere sympathy goes out to Ebba and family.

Sympathy of the area also is extended to Mrs. Lydia Maier and husband Oscar and family, as Lydia's mother passed away Sept. 8 at the age of 88 years, in Regina, Saskatchewan. Funeral was held Sept. 12 and she will be sadly missed by her family and friends.

Birthday Club was held Thursday afternoon, Sept. 24 at the home of Ursula Kuelker. Nine ladies were present and enjoyed the afternoon and lovely lunch.

Danny Meyer had the misfortune to lose his combine last week. It caught fire and only the quick action of Bryan Moffit who was driving on the Westcott road and saw it saved the crop.

Crops are being harvested and reports are from real good and good yield - to a poor quality and total loss. Crops were coming along so well and expectations were for a bumper crop. Sometimes, like in 1934, Mother Nature plays a cruel joke on us, crops had grown very tall with all the rain and a hard frost like this year came on Aug. 9, ruining everything. There was no fertilizer in those years and grain was such a poor quality and bitter that the pigs wouldn't even eat it.

This is the time of the year when gardeners are bringing in their harvest and it's always a worry, whether to dig them or leave them out for awhile more. My neighbor (Mary Innis) was digging her potatoes last week in Sept. and I said "I always leave mine until Oct. 1, but - on Oct. 1 it snowed 6 inches and got quite cold," and here I was digging mine out of 6 inches of snow and a number of them were frozen. Quite a mess. Often laugh about it now.

Operation Impact Announced

On October 3, 1992, police officers across Canada will join for a common purpose: to demonstrate their commitment to achieving increased usage of seatbelts and child restraints and thereby save lives.

Operation Impact is a one day cooperative traffic law enforcement and education campaign involving the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the Surete du Quebec, Ontario Provincial Police and the Canadian Association of Chiefs of Police. This partnership now represents over 60,000 police officers Canada wide.

Efforts are underway throughout Canada to achieve a 95% compliance rate by 1995. This goal has been established to save lives. For example, the seatbelt compliance rate in Canada in 1989 was 74%. If the usage had been 95%, over 500 lives would have been saved that year.

"My Unicorn"

By Bob Boucher

As I walked in the forest,
One warm Summer morn,
Crossing a flowered meadow,
I saw, a majestic Unicorn...!

I had seen them often,
I stood in pure amazement...,
As I took a second look.

His horn sparkled brightly,
Glistening in the sun,
I laid down very quietly,
Afraid...that he might run.

Raising his head skyward,
He made a magical sound...,
A soft musical whisper,
Could be heard all around.

Turning his head, he saw me,
Laying quietly under the trees,
As he walked over beside me,
I stood up...on rubber knees...!

Rubbing his nose against my cheek,
I slowly closed my eyes,
When I opened them wide again,
There were stars, in the sky...!

I had been dreaming...!!
My Mama had rubbed my face,
Daddy was there also,
And gave me a warm embrace.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Steven Michael Cardinal, taken suddenly October 4, 1987 in a truck accident.

"You bade no one a last farewell,
Nor even said good-bye,
For you were gone before we knew,
And only God knows why.
Looking back with memories,
Upon the past we trod together,
We bless the years we had with you.
So many times we've needed you,
To talk, to share, to laugh,
If love could have saved you,
You never would have died.
For you were too young,
And too loved to leave us."

Loved and remembered by your family,
Mary, Conrad and Sheena. 24-1tp

Notes from the Dragon's den

Eleven of 1992's graduating class have been honored for their high academic achievement. Shilyn Anderson, Marlin Derksen, Jamie Gingrich, Neil Kennedy, Michael Lentz, Michele Olson, Greg Overwater, Tracy Shewchuk, Laura Silbernagel, Darcy Whiteside, and Karen Widish have received a total of $13,400 in Rutherford Scholarships. Their hard work has been justly rewarded.

The senior volleyball teams were also hoping to be rewarded for their efforts last weekend in two tournaments. The boys were at the Olds College competing, while the girls were heading south to the University of Calgary for their tournament. (The results were not available for this article, but we will keep readers updated.)

Academics, athletics, and ... the fine arts. The Annual Band Meeting for parents at DHS will be held Wednesday, Sept. 30, at 7 p.m. in the Band Room at Didsbury High. Mr. Klein is looking forward to a large turn-out.

Mrs. Miller welcomes students to sign out any one of the many new novels she has purchased over the summer. The library is open before and after school as well as during the noon hour. Moreover, to encourage early risers she (along with Mr. Heywood) will be selling hot chocolate and muffins from the school store (before classes) throughout the month of October.

THE NEW CONSTITUTIONAL AGREEMENT

THE HIGHLIGHTS

Over the past two years, federal, provincial and Aboriginal leaders have consulted with thousands of Canadians and special interest groups from coast to coast. These consultations included Royal Commissions, participatory conferences, parliamentary hearings, and hearings in the provinces and territories held by provincial and territorial legislatures. Federal, provincial, territorial and Aboriginal leaders have agreed unanimously on a package of constitutional proposals that recognizes the equality of all Canadians and represents all of our interests. The agreement is now before Canadians.

A Social and Economic Union

The agreement proposes that the new Constitution would contain a statement of key economic and social objectives shared by all of the governments in the federation. The objectives include comprehensive, universal, portable, accessible and publicly administered health care, adequate social services and benefits, high quality primary and secondary education and reasonable access to post-secondary education, collective bargaining rights and a commitment to protecting the environment. The economic policy objectives to be entrenched would be aimed at strengthening the Canadian economic union; the free movement of persons, goods, services, and capital; ensuring full employment and a reasonable standard of living for all Canadians; ensuring sustainable and equitable development.

Exclusive provincial jurisdiction would be recognized in the areas of forestry, mining, tourism, housing, recreation, municipal affairs, cultural matters within the province, and labour market development and training. In addition, to ensure the two levels of government work in harmony, the government of

Distinct Society

Canada commits to negotiate agreements with the provinces in areas such as immigration, regional development and telecommunications. Federal-provincial agreements on any subject could be protected by the Constitution from unilateral change.

As was the case in the Meech Lake agreement, the new Canadian Constitution would recognize the distinct nature of Quebec, based on its French language, unique culture and civil law tradition.

In the reformed Parliament, the Senate would reflect the equality of the provinces while the House of Commons would be based more on the principle of representation by population. As well, Quebec would be assured a minimum 25% of the seats in the House of Commons.

The proposed Senate would be made up of six elected senators from each province and one from each territory. Additional seats would provide representation for Aboriginal peoples. The reform Senate's powers should significantly increase the role of the elected Senators in the policy process.

The proposals recognize that Aboriginal peoples have an inherent right to self-government and that the Constitution should enable them to develop self-government arrangements and to take their place in the Canadian federation. The proposals recognize Aboriginal governments as one of the three constitutionally recognized orders of government in Canada. In addition, the proposals provide for a negotiation process between Aboriginal leaders and provincial and federal governments to put this right into effect. The recognition of the inherent right would not create any new rights to land.

Now that Canada's federal, provincial, territorial and Aboriginal leaders have reached a consensus, it is the right of all Canadians to understand the new proposals. Call the toll free number below to receive an easy-to-read booklet on the new constitutional agreement or a complete text.

It's your right to know what the constitutional proposals say, before voting on October 26.
